How do I structure my business in a tax efficient manner whilst making it more attractive to future investors?

We will spend time with you to understand your objectives so that we can help you to structure your business accordingly. We can guide you through areas such as EIS and SEIS to attract investors as well as ways to minimise your tax burden on remuneration or exit. This approach can lead to real benefits both now and in the future.

How can cloud-based software help me to manage my business and communicate more efficiently?

There are a number of cloud-based accounting systems that provide essential, low cost backup and security of information with access from multiple locations. We will work with you to understand the information you need and how often in order to run your business. We can then perform as much or as little of the finance function as you need to support you as you grow.

How do I know if I am accounting for VAT correctly when our services are performed from numerous locations around the world?

Where a good or service supply originates in one country for the benefit of a recipient in another, complexities can arise as to whether the supply should be taxed in one or other of the countries concerned and if it should, in which one. We can help you work through these place of supply rules to ensure you are correctly accounting for VAT.
